Its Budapest campus opened in 1993 and since then students from all over the world have studied there. The summer programme, specifically for graduates, allows students to learn about the changes happening in one of Europe's most beautiful capital cities.

BUDAPEST SUMMER PROGRAMME

An introduction to Hungary and the European Union

Europe is not the same place it was 50 years ago. In a constantly changing world, Europe is grappling with new issues: globalization, demographic shifts, climate change, the need for sustainable energy sources and new security threats.

Hungary joined the European Union in 2004, which was the year where the European Union grew the most it ever had, since the creation of the European Economic Community in 1957. ESSCA's Budapest campus was opened in 1993.

Our Summer Programme in Budapest allows participants to come and discover the changes happening in one of Europe's most beautiful capitals.

Whatever face the future Union will have, its persistent development will be reinforcing Europe's importance as a global player and an indispensable partner for the other major regions of the world. It will be more and more important for Europeans and non-Europeans alike to fully understand its historical fundamentals, its modern political structure, its different business culture(s) and way(s) of management.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Courses- option 1

If you decide on option 1, you'll be taking the following courses:

Humanistic Management and Leadership (6 ECTS)

Managing organisations and people successfully in the long term is a complex challenge for businesses. This course looks at how people are much more than assets and how working towards company goals also contributes to personal well being. This course considers ethical aspects of work but combines it with the importance of employee character building.

Economic and Business Opportunities between Europe and Asia (6 ECTS)

The course provides an introduction to Asia's people, history, culture and economic and political developments in forming the current business environment. In order to expand students' knowledge on Asia lectures concentrate on the current economic and political status of Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, the ASEAN region and China as well, with many lectures taught by business professionals.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Courses-option 2

If you decide on option 2, you'll be taking the following courses:

International Marketing and Logistics

An ever growing number of firms, both profit and non-profit are now trading in a global market. It is therefore a priority for most of the organisations with any contact to foreign markets or partners to rethink their marketing and logistics activities along their international dimension as well as to design their international marketing and logistics activities in a comprehensive and coordinated way.

Self development (personal and role development)

Before anyone takes on a leadership role, they should ask themselves: “Why do I want to lead?”, a question which can often bring personal awareness but also uncertainty. Throughout the course students will become aware of their personal leadership styles, sources of power and patterns of communications. They will experience their own identity development cycle, become aware of personal transition blocking behaviors and beliefs, and possible ways of changing them.

Testimonials from students who have studied at ESSCA Budapest:

“I am from Australia and have already spent one semester at ESSCA Angers. As I wished to discover more countries in Europe I decided to spend one more semester at another site of ESSCA : this is how I chose ESSCA Budapest. Before I came to Europe I was told by some of my schoolmates at the Western Sydney University that the options and courses at ESSCA were very good and well fitting to my specialization. I arrived in Budapest last night and the sightseeing tour ESSCA organised for the students gave me a very nice first impression of the capital city”

-Arshpreet Aulakh

“I am an ESSCA student who has already travelled a lot. I also lived abroad for a while. However, the Central and Eastern European region was still uncovered for me and I had a strong desire to get to the region. Before the semester started I travelled to Budapest with my friends to see where I would spend the Spring Semester. I found the capital of Hungary beautiful and I felt that the atmosphere was really good. I am now looking forward to starting my classes and getting to know my new classmates.”
